Large crowd attends GOP meeting here

Business and pleasure were combined at the Sam Marting Lodge, CCC Highway-W, Thursday night when the Fayette County Republican Women's Club meet for a picnic dinner and meeting.

The guest speaker for the evening was Ohio Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, and a number of Republican officer holders and candidates were in attendance. Mrs. Daisy Gillispie, chairman of the Pickaway County Republican Women's Club also attended.

The lodge was packed with area Republicans and their families. The families shared both the food and friendly conversation before Mrs. Margaret Hurtt, president of the local Republican women's organization, began the more serious business of introducing some of the Republican candidates for office.

Local candidates who attended were Evelyn W. Coffman, candidate for judge of Fayette County Common Pleas Court and Mary Morris, seeking another term as county auditor. Both are incumbents and are unopposed. J. Willard Sears, candidate for Fayette County commissioner, also attended. He is seeking to unseat his opponent, Robert Mace, a Democrat.

Federal pay hikes backed by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has told President Ford that postponing federal pay increases is the wrong way to fight inflation and ordered the 5.5 per cent raises to take effect Oct. 1 as originally scheduled.

Ford's first clash with the Democratic-controlled Congress on an issue related to the nation's economic problems resulted Thursday in a 64 to 35 setback in the Senate for the new chief executive.

Ford wanted the pay raises for 3.5 million white-collar civilian employees and military personnel delayed until Jan. 1, saving $700 million and lending psychological support to the anti-inflation effort.

However, 15 Republicans joined 49 Democrats in voting to reject Ford's proposal. The other 27 Republicans and just eight Democrats voted with the President.

"You're not going to stop inflation or even slow it down with this kind of gimmick," declared Sen. Gale W. McGee, D-Wyo., chairman of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee which voted 7 to 0 against deferring the pay raise.

Assistant Senate Republican Leader Robert P. Griffin of Michigan led the fight for Ford. "You've got to start somewhere" in the battle against inflation, he said.

"If the Senate says 'No' to the President, then in effect we are going to open the floodgates and make it very difficult for the President to ask any other group to exercise restraint," Griffin said.

The pay raise was recommended by a presidential board under a 1970 law that provides for a recommendation each year on what changes, if any, are needed to keep federal salaries comparable with those in the civilian sector. Under the procedure, the President then accepts or revises the recommendation, subject to a veto by either the House or Senate.

Following Brown's address, the guests enjoyed some poems read by Mrs. Hurtt and three songs sung by Mrs. Marsha Shipley, who also played her own accompaniment.

Local candidates who attended were Evelyn W. Coffman, candidate for judge of Fayette County Common Pleas Court and Mary Morris, seeking another term as county auditor. Both are incumbents and are unopposed. J. Willard Sears, candidate for Fayette County commissioner, also attended. He is seeking to unseat his opponent, Robert Mace, a Democrat.

Prosecutor eyes story

FBI break-ins disclosed in Watergate testimony

By MICHAEL PUTZEL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation conducted a number of "surreptitious entries" or break-ins during the Nixon administration, according to once-secret testimony before the Senate Watergate committee.

The testimony, by former White House counsel J. Fred Buzhardt, disputes an assertion by former President Richard M. Nixon that such FBI activities had ceased in 1966. It raises new questions about Nixon's claim that a top-secret, intelligence-gathering plan he approved in 1970 was withdrawn before it was implemented.

The testimony was taken in executive session last May 7 and recently released.

During the questioning, Watergate committee investigator Scott Armstrong Buzhardt if he was aware "of any surreptitious entry or burglary performed by employees, representatives, or designees, in the U.S. government, in the Executive Office of the President, or of any campaign organization, other than (the Ellsberg and Watergate break-ins)?"

Buzhardt said he was aware of such break-ins, that they occurred since Jan. 1, 1969 and were performed by the FBI.

Buzhardt also said the break-ins were classified and he could not discuss them.

The Nixon lawyer went on to say that as far as he knew the break-ins did not involve reporters, political candidates or elected officials and were not financed with campaign funds as the Ellsberg and Watergate break-ins were.

The Watergate committee did not pursue the matter further because there was no indication that the FBI break-ins were connected to the 1972 presidential campaign, which was the focus of the committee's probe.

A spokesman for the Special Watergate Prosecution Force said his office was aware of the Buzhardt testimony. He reiterated that misuse of government agencies is one phase of the prosecutor's work but refused to say specifically whether the FBI allegations are part of that probe.

Asked about surreptitious entries, a spokesman for the Justice Department, the FBI's parent agency, said, "We don't do it." He had no comment on the Buzhardt testimony.

Nixon issued subpoena

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new subpoena for Richard M. Nixon to appear in the Watergate cover-up trial is likely to hasten an official opinion on the former president's health.

Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski issued the subpoena for Nixon to make himself available as a prosecution witness on Oct. 1, the day the trial is to start, a spokesman said Thursday.

It was served by FBI agents at Nixon's San Clemente, Calif., estate at 8:50 p.m. EDT on Thursday.

Nixon, meanwhile, issued a claim of executive privilege in a move to keep his tape recordings from use in two civil suits stemming from the Watergate break-in.

Unlike an earlier subpoena issued by lawyers for cover-up defendant John D. Ehrlichman, the new summons for Nixon is likely to make an early issue of Nixon's health.

Ehrlichman is seeking Nixon's testimony on the alleged cover-up, but the defense is unlikely to begin its case until late October or November.

Jaworski needs Nixon's testimony early in the trial, sources familiar with the case said on Thursday.

The prosecutors need the former president to authenticate more than 30 White House tapes which they plan to play for the jury. The tapes include many conversations between Nixon and cover-up defendants.

Before the tapes can be admitted as evidence, someone must testify to their accuracy as recordings of real conversations. According to two lawyers not directly involved in the trial, in past criminal trials the only persons who can do that are those who joined in the conversations or at least were present when they took place.

In addition, lawyers say Nixon is probably the only one who can testify whether the tapes were tampered with in any way because he personally dictated who would have access to them as the Watergate investigations continued to unfold.

Nixon, reportedly planning to enter a hospital next week, is suffering from a blood clot disease called phlebitis. His lawyer, Herbert J. Miller, has acknowledged the former president has shown "serious signs of strain and physical fatigue."

Miller, as he has done in an unrelated civil suit in California, is expected to ask U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica to quash the subpoenas seeking Nixon's testimony.

A legal clerk to Sirica, Todd Christofferson, said on Thursday that in cases where a defendant's or a witness' health is in question, the judge usually appoints a doctor to make an independent examination.

Christofferson said no decision has been made by Sirica on that yet, but the subject is likely to come up at a meeting between the judge and prosecution and defense lawyers next Tuesday.

Meantime, Nixon issued his executive privilege claims to quash subpoenas for the tapes in a civil suit filed by a Democratic party official whose Watergate office was bugged and in a suit by the Democratic National Committee against Watergate burglar James W. McCord. McCord had sought the tapes for his defense.

Rockefeller's worth said $182.5 million

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nelson A. Rockefeller puts his personal fortune at $62.5 million, but the head of a committee probing his vice presidential nomination is more concerned with what the holdings are than their total.

Rockefeller issued a statement on Thursday listing his personal fortune and saying he also receives income from two trusts with assets of $120 million.

Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, said, "The significance of his financial holdings is what the holdings are in and whether there is a likelihood of a conflict of interest."

Cannon said the Rules Committee will question the former New York governor closely about some of his holdings.

Rockefeller issued a summary on Thursday of what he termed "the final and complete data" on his finances.

As aides had promised, the total was substantially higher than the $33 million personal worth figure that had leaked from the House and Senate committees preparing for confirmation hearings.

Including the $62.5 million in personal holdings, the statement declared that "total assets owned outright and in the two trusts amount to approximately $182.5 million."

The $62.5 million figure includes the $33 million listed earlier, some $20.5 million in art and real estate to be given away at his death and some $9 million representing updated appraisals of art and real estate that were unavailable when the first report was filed.

More details will be included in the opening statement Rockefeller will present to the Rules Committee on Monday.

Hearings before the House Judiciary Committee, which apparently is planning an exhaustive look at the Rockefeller fortunes, may be put off until after the November elections.

The Judiciary Committee is doing its own calculations of Rockefeller's net worth, and its investigators are not expected to finish until mid-October, about the time both House and Senate plan to recess until after the Nov. 5 elections.

Chest campaign expanded

Only one phase of the 1975 Community Chest campaign remains to be launched, according to Otis Hess, Chest president.

Hess said the phase not yet launched is the residential driver, which under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Tate and Mrs. Paul Johnson, should take place in early October.

Clubs and organizations will be contacted for Chest contributions by director Donald Murdock and businesses by directors O.E. Price and Lee Kraus, financial institutions and professional personnel such as physicians and attorneys by director Gary McMurray, all city and county school personnel by director Edwin Nestor and industry and employ groups by director Jack Brennan.

HESS INDICATED a new tactic, mailing of a personal letter to every rural boxholder in Fayette County, has been initiated this year. Due to a lack of trained workers to conduct a rural campaign, the Community Chest's board of directors determined the mail campaign to be the best approach for rural contributions.

The Community Chest president is also attempting to establish depository stations in all county financial institutions. Further work and official announcement of this procedure is expected to be ready by next week.

Permission has also been received from members of the Fayette County Board of Commissioners to exhibit a four by eight foot thermometer on the Courthouse lawn during the Community Chest campaign. The instrument will indicate a running percentage of the overall percentage of the county goal at any given date.

The 1975 goal has been set at $28,000 with a total of ten agencies to benefit from the drive. The agencies are Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Community Activity Fund, Community Education, Girl Scouts, the Mental Health Association, Eyman Park, Red Cross, Salvation Army and the Senior Citizens Center.

Trailers still arriving for fall rally here

Airstream travel trailers were still arriving at Fayette County Friday morning for the annual fall rally of the Ohio Unit, Wally Byam Caravan Club.

The four-day rally, which opened at the Fayette County Fairground Thursday and runs through Sunday, will attract about 200 trailer owners, according to Glen Turner, who serves as president of the Ohio unit.

TOURS OF Pennington Bakery and Marting Manufacturing Co., were on tap for the Airstreamers today. A style show sponsored by Craig's, Soldan's, Martha Washington Shop, and Steen's was also scheduled for Friday afternoon.

The shiny aluminum trailers, many with flags flying, create a colorful sight at the Fayette County Fairground. Turner said the public is invited to come visit with the trailer owners and perhaps even look through some of the trailers.

There are about 600 families in the Ohio club. The club holds two rallies each year, one in the spring and another in the fall.

10 dangerous inmates flee from jail

MIAMI (AP) — Police were searching today for 10 of 11 inmates who made a daring escape from the Dade County jail. Four of the 11 had been charged with murder, and one was awaiting trial in a brutal double abduction slaying.

The 11th escapee was nabbed by officers early today about four hours after the break.

Police said that the escapees were extremely dangerous, may have armed themselves and were believed to be wearing civilian clothing.

The convict accused in the abduction slaying, Thomas Knight, 23, was being held on two charges of first degree murder in the July 17 kidnappings of wealthy paper bag company owner Sydney Gans, 64, and his wife, Lillian, 60.

The men used a steel bar broken from a plumbing repair compartment door to dig a hole through a reinforced wall and gain access to an outside window, according to Jack Sandstrom, jail director.

Again using the bar, they ripped a heavy metal screen from the window on the fourth floor. They jumped down two floors or climbed down on awnings to a second-story roof, then leaped again to an outside sidewalk.

Police said Joseph Reese, being held on robbery charges, was recaptured about seven blocks from the jail.

In addition to Knight and Reese, the escapees, all in their 20s and from Miami, were identified by police as: John Johnson, Christopher Rush, Jimmie Lee Holton, Landon Dankins, Henry Brown, Orin Gilbert, Lawrence Boykin, Ronald Ellis and Frank Murphy. In addition to Knight, those being held on murder charges were Bush, Brown and Gilbert.

New autos get better gas mileage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Environmental Protection Agency said today that 1975 automobiles will get about 13.5 per cent better gasoline mileage, on the average, than 1974 models.

The improvement, which was not distributed evenly among manufacturers, was attributed generally to a range of engine modifications adopted in connection with the new models' required antipollution systems.

The over-all nationwide savings of gasoline, however, were expected to be a little lower because of an anticipated increase in sales of large cars, EPA said.

EPA reported the best fuel mileage performance was by the Datsun B-210, which rolled up 27 miles per gallon in simulated city driving and 39 miles per gallon in simulated highway driving in the EPA tests.

All of the top 10 were small foreign cars, but U.S. manufacturers placed in the second 10 virtually neck and neck with their foreign competitors.

Not all manufacturers showed the same improvements in fuel economy and some even managed to lose some miles per gallon.

On the average, and taking into account the expected sales of large, medium, and small models, EPA said General Motors showed the highest improvement, increasing its average miles per gallon from 10.5 in 1974 models to 13.5 in 1975 models, a 28.3 per cent improvement.

Arabs invest $7 billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department reports that oil-producing nations have invested about $7 billion of their surplus revenues in the United States.

About $4 billion of that has been invested in U.S. government securities, with most of the remainder placed in commercial banks, officials said.

Several hundred million dollars "may have gone into corporate securities and real estate," Treasury added.

Treasury officials estimated that the oil-producing nations have accumulated $25 billion to $28 billion in surpluses in the first eight months of this year.

The department provided the figures to the Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations.

Treasury Secretary William E. Simon said the information on the surpluses is at best "a very rough guess."

OVERHEATED DRYER — A minor fire at the Bill Wilson residence, 114 W. Paint St. shortly after 11 a.m. Friday was blamed on an overheated dryer. The dryer, located on the second floor, overheated and set fire to the clothes inside, firemen said. The fire was confined to the dryer. There was minor smoke and water damage to the rest of the two story frame home. No one was at home at the time the blaze was reported. Firemen Jim Sever is pictured removing charred clothing from the dryer.

Cost of living spurts in August

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer prices soared 1.3 per cent in August as sharp increases in costs of meats, clothing, mortgage interest and medical services led the biggest inflationary surge of the past 12 months, the government reported today.

The leap in retail prices, which works out to an adjusted annual rate of 15.6 per cent, was foreshadowed by near record wholesale price increases over the past two months and virtually assures continued high inflation through 1974.

President Ford's top economic advisers had said Thursday that the economy would remain sluggish at least through mid-1975 with no foreseeable relief in inflation expected in the next six to nine months.

The August increase lifted consumer prices 11.2 per cent above a year ago and further eroded the buying power of American workers.

Real spendable earnings—that is, take-home pay after deductions for taxes and adjusted for inflation—fell nine-tenths of a per cent last month to a level 4.1 per cent below a year ago, the Labor Department said. That was the lowest level since December 1970.

Detailing its price report, the Labor Department said Americans paid more for nearly everything last month with few exceptions. Among them were lower prices for fresh vegetables, poultry, fish and some nonfood items, including gasoline which declined for the first time since last September.

In a related development, Chairman Arthur Burns of the Federal Reserve Board told financial leaders attending one of President Ford's presummit meetings on the economy that there would be no further tightening of the monetary policy that has led to record high interest rates. Burns said, however, there probably would not be a major decline in interest rates—although some small decline is possible—in the immediate future.

The Consumer Price Index jump signaled a half billion dollar increase in pension benefits for federal government retirees and military personnel whose retirement benefits are adjusted to account for increases in the cost of living.

The 1.3 per cent rise in consumer prices last month, both adjusted and unadjusted, followed an eight-tenths of a per cent increase in July and was the biggest one month rise reported since retail prices rose 1.9 per cent last August following the lifting of the government's price freeze.

Corporate donations stir political fuss

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Democratic Party was asked Thursday by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown to explain what he said appeared to be contributions from 30 corporations on the party's May primary expense report.

"We feel like we've been sand-bagged," said Mike Lorz, a party spokesman. Lorz said the firm names had been checked with Brown's corporations section first to make sure they were not legal corporations.

"You can have a firm or a company and not be a corporation under Ohio law," Lorz said. Brown agreed, but said it appeared many of the donors listed were legal corporations.

Brown said some of the contributors' names match "exactly" corporation names on file in his office while other "are very nearly, although not exactly, the same as the corporate names."

Brown said Ohio law provides a fine up to $1,000 and imprisonment for one year — or both — for corporate personnel violating the law.

Brown said there was no way to determine if the party had actually checked to see if the firms were legal corporations before they filed the list.

"I can't refute it," said Richard Evans, Brown's legal counsel. "There is just no way of knowing."

Lorz said Brown, a Republican, was pointing the finger at Democrats to take the attention away from GOP gubernatorial candidate James A. Rhodes' filing of his 1973 "chicken dinner" fund raiser.

Brown earlier gave the Rhodes Luncheon Committee until next Wednesday to come up with an amended filing.

Stock list takes dip

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market's week-long rally faltered today amid apparent disappointment at a major bank's decision to hold its prime interest rate at 12 per cent.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 9.16 at 664.89, and losers held a 7-to-6 lead over gainers on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow had gained some 47 points since the start of the week, with the help of enthusiasm over softening shortterm money rates. Expectations also evidently built up that New York's First National City Bank might cut its prime rate today, but the big bank said as trading began it would stay with a 12 per cent rate for the coming week.

Pan American World Airways was the Big Board volume leader, down 1/4 at 2 1/2 in trading that included a 292,300-share block at 2 1/2.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index was up .12 at 66.22.

The NYSE's noon composite index of all its listed common stocks was down .38 at 36.25.

Houston Oil & Minerals was the Amex volume leader, up 1/4 at 13 1/2.

General shower activity over Ohio should end in all sections by Friday night, with general clearing and somewhat cooler temperatures expected.

The National Weather Service said a cold front moving into the northwest portion of Ohio after midnight Thursday touched off showers and thunder-showers across the northern third of the state. This front with its associated showers and thundershowers is forecast to move southward over the remainder of the state during the day as conditions improve in the northern areas during the afternoon.

Temperatures were rather mild across Ohio during the night with readings mainly in the mid 60s, but in areas north of the front the temperatures fell into the 50s. The trend to cooler temperatures beginning today will likely continue through the weekend.

Oil price boost seen

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The secretary-general of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) predicts a 12 per cent increase in the price of crude oil in January to meet the anticipated rate of global inflation.

Abdel Rahman Khene of Algeria also told the independent Beirut newspaper Al Bayrak he expects Saudi Arabia to acquire 100 per cent control of the Arabian American Oil Co. (Aramco), the world's largest oil-producing firm, before the end of the year.

Al Bayrak said it interviewed Khene in Vienna, where all OPEC nations but Saudi Arabia agreed last week to raise by 3.5 per cent the taxes and royalties paid by oil companies to producing nations.

Good Samaritan dies in crash

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Police say 22-year-old Paul Nelms was struck and killed by a car after he stopped to help at the scene of an accident on I-71 Thursday night.

Police said Nelms was driving with his wife, Barbara, and two young sons when he saw the car ahead spin out of control and slam into the concrete barrier near the West 14th Street exit.

Nelms walked to the scene and while he was inspecting the wreckage another car smashed into the first car, pinning Nelms.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE
Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.
SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 21

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)
You can advance through association with those who stimulate your thinking and imagination — especially if aims and objectives are mutual.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)
Be hasty in neither word nor deed. Day has pitfalls which you can avoid if you are on guard at all times.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)

An average day which can be made much brighter, more meaningful with a little extra verve on your part. Get out and "mix." Some exciting new contacts possible.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)

Your ability is an acknowledged fact, so don't try to impress through showmanship. It would only alienate others.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Launching into uncharted seas may take you further than expected, into waters too deep for comfort. Check before going beyond your depth.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

A stimulating day! Stars give new impetus to all worthwhile undertakings. Go forward confidently toward all immediate objectives.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Take only the short cuts which common sense dictates. In general, you will have to put in extra effort to make this day's activities shape up better, faster.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Don't listen to what "they" say when you have reason to believe the source is questionable. Stress your good judgment and foresight.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

An average day, if you are content to leave it at that. But, if you are ready to accept challenges, it holds the nucleus of fine achievement and new opportunities to reach higher objectives.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Get the other fellow's point of view before making final decisions. You may be pleasantly surprised at the new perspectives you gain.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Be flexible, but not easily turned by every wind that blows; eager to take new steps forward, but not at the cost of future losses.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)
A fine day! You may be the recipient of special favors, tokens of good will or other unexpected benefits.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a fine mind, great imagination and the stamina and persistence that are invaluable to research and scientific investigation. You would make an excellent physician or educator, but may prefer one of the arts as a career. If so, you could succeed especially in the theater, as a writer or music composer. Your diplomacy is outstanding and you could also become a top-flight statesman.

Claim newspapers doing good job

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Most newspapers are far more responsible than reckless and newspeople are more skilled and innovative than ever before, a veteran newsman told an Ohio State University audience today.

"Most newspeople want to do the right thing for their readers," said Associated Press Chairman Paul Miller. "Being human, we often fall short."

Miller, who originally joined The Associated Press in Columbus at 25, spoke at the dedication of the new OSU journalism building.

In his remarks on "Journalism: Responsible or Reckless?" Miller said many readers who complain about newspaper errors have a "conspiracy complex."

"Conservatives may blame the errors on the 'Eastern liberal press,'" he said. "Liberals may blame 'establishment' newspaper publishers."

He said readers rarely forgive even the best of newspaper people for slipping up or just being occasionally lax.

"Even Woody Hayes can blow a crucial call," said Miller, referring to OSU's football coach, "but if the Buckeyes go undefeated, the fans forgive the boner."

Miller, AP chairman since 1963, is also chairman of the Gannett Group, which publishes 51 dailies in 15 states and Guam and is numerically the largest newspaper chain in the U.S.

Miller said that newspaper errors are seldom the result of malice or studied distortion, but more often come from "failure to do the reporting and editing properly through haste, ignorance or a mental lapse."

"All in all," he said, "there are far more right decisions made by able newspapermen every day on any good newspaper than the occasional—and deeply regretted—slips."

Miller said most newspapers are working to get even closer to their readers through such means as action line columns, space regularly set aside for corrections and the creation of ombudsman posts on newspaper staffs.

He also pointed out that more qualified persons are entering the news field than ever before in history.

Still, he suggested, newspapers will always be wrongly criticized.

"There are three things anybody can do better than whoever is doing it—drive a car, coach a football team and run a newspaper," he said.

Plains rains hit Southwest

By The Associated Press
Rain on the plains — lots of it — left flash flood watches and warnings in effect in various parts of the Southwest today.

Thunderstorms and showers also stretched from the Great Lakes through the central plains. Okeene, Okla., reported 5½ inches of rain and Tulsa had 4.3 inches in 24 hours.

Cloudy and partly cloudy skies covered most of the nation.

High water in the runways delayed flights at the Tulsa International Airport.

Fayetteville, Ark., was drenched in more than 2 inches of rain in six hours. Abilene, Tex., had almost 1½ inches and Roswell, N.M., received about ¾ inch in six hours.

Fog hung along the mid-Atlantic coastal states, reducing visibility to less than one mile.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 36 at Marquette, Mich., to 87 at Needles, Calif.

Family reunion real humdinger

By JOHN ERADI
Cincinnati Enquirer
CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Normal family reunions may be simple occasions, spiced with potato salad and lots of beer mixed between casual introductions and lazy conversations.

Everybody knows who's who. But, when a 43-year-old amateur genealogist armed with out-of-town telephone books and a 300-year-old plus family tree plans one, you could bet the result will not be a run-of-the-mill get-together.

Setting for the unusual result was Terrace Park Community Center Sept. 7. The diverse turnout probably would have made Laurens DeCamp, a stern-jawed French Huguenot who settled in America way back in 1664, stare.

Laurens DeCamp was the cause of it all—a whopping 11 generations of DeCamps, the last four of whom are spread across the country like melted butter on a hot pancake.

"They were everywhere from New York to California," said 43-year-old Crane DeCamp, the man who engineered the reunion. "No DeCamps were here from California, but I did get a letter from a lady out there who said she heard through the family grapevine that the DeCamps were having a reunion."

"She wanted to come but she said she wasn't invited."

Crane DeCamp knew he had his work cut out for him two years ago when he decided to update the family genealogy book published in 1896. That's when he got the idea for the reunion.

"And, what better place to have it than Cincinnati?" he asked.

DeCamp makes his living as an architect in New York, but he was born in Cincinnati.

Claim Rhodes didn't keep promises

By The Associated Press
Democratic Gov. John Gilligan said Thursday he kept his campaign promises while his Republican opponent, James Rhodes, did not when he held the chief executive's office.

Meanwhile, Rhodes pledged to study the possibility of constructing state office buildings in 10 additional Ohio counties if he is elected governor in November.

Gilligan, speaking in Findlay, said the Rhodes administration from 1963-71 reneged on promises to improve support for public schools and meet the needs of mental health programs.

But Gilligan said his administration has raised expenditures for schools by 88 per cent and increased support for mental health programs by 64 per cent.

Rhodes, in a statement issued by his Columbus campaign office, proposed centralizing state government functions that now are widely scattered.

The 10 counties Rhodes suggested for the study are Butler, Hamilton, Lake, Lorain, Lucas, Mahoning, Montgomery, Stark, Summit and Trumbull.

A cart for use between kitchen and dining room simplifies meal service. A slight edge on the top of the cart will prevent dishes and servers from falling off.

The DeCamp connection to Ohio began in 1812 when Ezekial DeCamp settled in Butler County just north of Cincinnati. He set the stage for a family reunion by fathering 12 boys and five girls.

"Those 17 are the common denominator for the 80 of us here at the reunion," said Crane DeCamp. "But, nobody knows yet just who came from whom."

DeCamp spent the day finding out. He had invited all 19 DeCamps in the Cincinnati telephone directory, plus many in Louisville, Ky.; Columbus, Ohio, and Indianapolis, Ind.

Back came many replies saying, "Yes, we have the book and were wondering who all those DeCamps were."

"The Book", as the DeCamps call it, begins with Laurens DeCamp and ends with a few family members after the birth of Crane's now deceased father, a mere 4-year-old when the book was published.

The assembled DeCamps studied huge charts tracing the DeCamps as Crane knew them. He was trying to find the direct descendent line of Ezekial. Others were trying to fill the gaps.

"I hope to finish the book in time for our nation's bicentennial in 1976," said Crane DeCamp. "I just wish we didn't wait so long between reunions."

The last time the DeCamps got together was 1871.

Fire safeguards worked

In towns and cities all over the United States there are old buildings which cannot be described as anything but firetraps. They are not only highly flammable, but lacking in such safety precautions as adequate fire escapes or flame-resistant doors to keep a blaze from spreading.

The important point to be made is that much can be done to reduce the hazard. This is freshly illustrated by what happened when fire broke out in an old hotel in downtown Los Angeles the other day.

The fire began in a sixth floor room. Had this occurred a year or two ago the flames might have swept tragically through the old structure. But something else took place last year: In accordance with a new city ordinance, the hotel had been equipped with fire-resistant doors, automatic smoke detectors, stair-shaft enclosures, and other things designed to warn hotel occupants and slow down the flames.

As a result, only one room burned; "20-minute doors" in other rooms guarded them. No lives were lost. It was triumphant evidence of the wisdom of that ordinance, one which many another community would do well to adopt.

WASHINGTON CALLING . . . By Marquis Childs

What could have been

WASHINGTON — The tragic irony for the lonely Hamlet who stalks the Pacific beach is that his achievements in foreign policy were so notable. If he had not fallen into the trap of Watergate they could have made Richard Nixon one of the outstanding if not great presidents of this century which he passionately aspired to be.

The conspicuous achievement of the past five years was the opening to China, ending the futile policy of containment to which Nixon himself in earlier years had contributed. That the initiative came from the resigned President, Marvin and Bernard Kalb document in their book "Kissinger."

THE SECRETARY of State, then Nixon's adviser on national security affairs, may have been the engineer, but the starting signal came from the president.

The China connection continues to be a strong plus in American policy. That was underscored by President Ford when he put into his Ohio State speech a paragraph about Peking's successes and the disciplined and highly motivated Chinese youth as a challenge to us.

Those of us who have visited China, as Ford did with a congressional delegation in 1972, have seen this same discipline. Whatever the reason, and surely part of it is the extraordinary capacity of the Chinese for hard work, the strides they have made in 25 years are evident to even the brief tripper.

With skepticism on Peking's side as the issue of Taiwan and Chiang Kai-shek remains unresolved, the ties between the two powers continue strong. Still another congressional delegation, headed by Chairman J. William Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has currently been touring China. Sen. Henry M. Scoop Jackson in an earlier solo visit endeavored himself to Chinese leaders not only because of his known hostility to detente with the Soviet Union.

Fifteen months ago David Bruce, America's senior diplomat, was sent to Peking to head the liaison mission established there after the Nixon visit. That was recognition of the importance of the post. There was puzzlement over why George Bush, retiring chairman of the Republican national committee, should have been named to succeed Bruce. He was serving as American ambassador to the United Nations when Peking mounted a successful offensive against the "two-China" policy that Bush defended to the bitter end on orders from Washington.

One explanation is that Bush, who is 50, would be on hand when the transition takes place from the old men, Mao Tse-tung and Chou En-lai, still in command, to a younger generation.

The likely successor to Chou is Wang Hung-wen, one of the five vice chairmen of the Communist party under Chairman Mao. Believed to be 40 years old, Wang is third in formal rank of succession in the politburo.

Chou is gravely ill. He suffered a relapse from an earlier heart attack and recently for the first time missed a meeting with Mao and African leaders.

FINDING A substitute for Chou with his astonishing energy and organizing ability will not be easy. At the height of the cultural revolution, when planned chaos had got out of hand, Chou helped to put on the brakes.

The friendship between Chou and Kissinger during Kissinger's six visits to the Chinese capital is a fascinating example of the exchange of minds of phenomenal capacity. Although he would like to go earlier, Kissinger, because of prior commitments, cannot return to Peking before December.

Another Nixon initiative contributed to the recognition of East Germany as a sovereign state ending the long and futile impasse of the two Germanys.

As the first ambassador to the newly recognized nation, President Ford showed his understanding of the importance and the probable difficulties of the assignment by naming a distinguished ambassador in former Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky. It was the Nixon ambassador to West Germany, Kenneth Rush, who worked closely with former Chancellor Willy Brandt to bring an end to the freeze. Rush now goes as ambassador to France.

The misery is that the trap of Watergate was set by the Nixon character. His own ingrown distrust, his choice of the men closest to him who would give the most slavish sycophancy, his isolation behind the walls of his own fear, all this created out of what might have been a minor accident a national catastrophe.

Portsmouth man named to top post

CLEVELAND (AP) — Richard L. Kizer of Portsmouth was elected president of the Ohio Chapter American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers during the group's recent convention in Cleveland.

Kizer takes over the helm of the group Jan. 1, 1975 for a one year term.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

I wonder if our city council and school board ever stopped to think of how many different taxes we have to pay and if they did if they would stop and think twice when they wanted to increase and put more taxes on us this day and time.

Let us go back and look at some of the taxes we have to pay: income tax, corporation tax, state sales tax, state income tax, excise tax, personal property tax, real estate tax, inheritance tax, license tax, sewer tax, social security tax, school taxes and industrial tax just to name a few. The high cost of living and the high taxes are bringing the taxpayers to their knees. We wonder where it will stop for if they do not want new taxes they want to double what we already have.

Everytime there is an election they come around and smile and shake your hand and we are told the same old story — vote for me, I have the experience, I am a doer and I know how to say no, but let them get in office and they forget who put them there.

All you can hear them say is give us more taxes and make laws that apply to some and not to others and then they tell us our future is great.

If they would just stop and think and start to reduce the cost of their spending of the money that they say they do not have then they would not need any more taxes or an increase in taxes.

Many a voter has appeared before city council to support or oppose the ordinances or have a complaint, but it appears they forget who put them in office and they pay no attention to what the individuals want and do just the opposite.

From the way it looks, they think that they own the seats up there they are setting in that the taxpayer paid an extravagant price for.

If they assume and continue this same attitude then they should be replaced at the first opportunity.

They can not seem to get the fact that the taxpayers are a tired worn group that is crying loud and clear about all this high spending and the taxes that they want to put on us.

They know and we know that the taxpayer is bled to death every year. They tell us they are going to reduce our property taxes by four one-mill levies, but they did not tell us that two of them die in 1975 and two die in 1976 and if they get them back they would have to put it back on the ballot to see if they get it or not.

So in closing I would like to say this is a thought to remember the word trust and the meaning of it.

It is in the dictionary. Read it and think about it.

William Stolzenburg Sr.
804 Maple St.

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

Your recent editorial bemoaning the fact that Congress was so slow to enact a national health bill which you inferred all the citizens were clamoring for bothered me.

First, I don't think the majority of the people are for it. They know how much waste gets into every government program and how expensive they become. We just have social planners and newspapermen telling us we want it.

Second, I don't know what makes you think it would be so great. What program that the federal government runs is such a huge success? Social Security? Raise unemployment to 10 per cent and see it go broke. The Postal Department? A three cent stamp of a few years back is now ten cents and predictions are for thirteen cents for your Christmas cards this year. Has the government been successful in controlling costs in their own programs?

We have the best system of medical care in the world. It has deficiencies, needs constant free-enterprise type of surveillance but is still the best in the world. Would you agree that any new system to which we would change should include provisions to make medical care 1. More accessible, 2. Better, and 3. Less expensive.

Do you really think that if Uncle Sam takes over, any of those will result? You know better! The cost of the bureaucracy to run a national socialized medicine program will equal or exceed the present total of physicians fees for all medical care, and that's only a beginning. Medicare costs were under estimated by one fourth.

The other day a nice little lady on Market Street wanted to mail a check to a local business on Court Street to pay a bill. The only stamp she had was an 11 cent out dated by government inflation air mail stamp, now 13 cents. She put it on the envelope and posted it. That letter then had to ride to Columbus, come back and then be carried the two blocks to Court Street. The merchant was assessed 2 cents postage due because that stamp is now 13 cents. This is the same federal government to whom you wish to assign total responsibility for your health care? Unbelievable!

Just remember, more accessible, better and less expensive. Wouldn't it be wiser for us all to expend our efforts to make our present system all of these, than to turn it over to Daddy Sugar, who already has such a big hand in our pockets?

Ohio Perspective

Celeste and Hall are men to watch

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— State Sen. Tony Hall, D—6 Dayton, and Rep. Richard Celeste, D—5 Cleveland, look like young men to watch in the Ohio Democratic party.

Both are waging first-time statewide campaigns. Win or lose in November, both will be considered good candidate material in the future, capital politicians believe.

Hall is running for secretary of state and Celeste is campaigning for lieutenant governor. Both have aggressive, well-organized campaigns.

Even veteran Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, the Republican incumbent, has some admiration for his November opponent.

"You picked a good man to run against me," he recently told Gov. John J. Gilligan. "If I have to turn this office over to somebody else, I want him to be good."

Atty. Gen. William J. Brown claims no prowess in the stock market. In fact, he listed no stock holdings in a recent financial disclosure report.

But, he does have a theory on how the market can help him.

He told newsmen how he acted on a tip and bought into a national steakhouse operation. The stock fell from 23 points to 12 in only six days.

"It lost five points the day I bought it," Brown said.

But the attorney general said he had found a new way to fight big corporate interests that pose a threat to consumers.

"All I have to do is invest in them," he said.

State Rep. Ronald H. Weyandt, D—43 Akron, says Watergate and other national issues are having impact in local races "even though the only thing we can do is talk to our congressmen and senators, just like everyone else."

"I get calls from people who are screaming about these things and all I can do is agree with them," Weyandt said.

Weyandt is seeking his second term in the House and he thinks neither party will benefit in November.

"It hurts both parties," he said.

His opposition in the Nov. 5 election is Kathryn Wertzbaugher, a member of the Summit County Republican Finance Committee and a former member of the Akron City Council.

Toronto and Montreal were the first cities in Canada to use horse-drawn cars for public transport.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Their eights try for a boy is still 50-50

DEAR ABBY: You should have told "Mother of Eight Dolls" to tell her doctor, who told her, "The law of averages is in your favor, 100 to one," to go back to medical school for courses in genetics and statistics.

Theoretically, no matter how many children of what sex a couple already have, the odds are very close to 50-50 that the next one will be a girl. Before this couple had had any children the doctor could have predicted that if they went on to have eight children, the odds were 256 to one against all eight being girls.

But that isn't the question the doctor was asked. He was asked, "Of all families that have seven girls born already, what are the odds that the eighth will be a boy?"

In summary, the proper prediction to give this couple, if asked for advice concerning an eighth try for a boy, would be, "The normal odds are 50-50, but in your case there may be other factors causing you to bear only girls, so I would have to say that your eighth child is more likely to be a girl than a boy."

SARA K. WEINBERG, CLASS OF 1977 UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

DEAR ABBY: You belong at the head of the class, which is probably where you are. Congratulations.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me if I am wrong or right. There was a TV program (a special) I had looked forward to seeing for a long time. I was invited to play cards that night, but declined because I wanted to see it.

About 15 minutes before it was to go on, in came my sister-in-law and mother-in-law! They don't live very far from me, and we see each other quite often. I get along fine with my sister-in-law but my mother-in-law is another story.

I said, "I'll fix coffee, but I want to see a TV program which goes on in 15 minutes. Please stay and watch it with me?"

My mother-in-law said, "Don't bother making coffee, we can't stay." Then she pulled my sister-in-law by the arm and they left.

The next day my sister-in-law called and said, "For a smart woman, you sure are dumb!" Then she laid me out because I didn't just skip the TV program and entertain her and Mom.

I want your opinion on this incident. BURNING IN BOSTON

DEAR BURNING: I don't know why anyone (relative or otherwise) should drop in uninvited and unannounced and expect to be treated like an invited guest. They should have called first and given you a chance to say, "I'm sorry, but I have plans. How about tomorrow night?"

DEAR ABBY: I am an 18-year-old girl who has been married for two years. No kids. (I lost the baby I was P.G. with when I got married, and can't have any more kids.)

Like most couples, Bill and I have our fights and when we do I call up my folks and mention it, and they drive right down to "rescue" me.

They live 300 miles away, and by the time they get here I've cooled off and so has Bill, but they make me go home with them to think things over anyway. They treat me like a child-not a grown woman.

They're hoping I'll leave Bill for good because they never wanted me to marry him in the first place. He does run around on me sometimes, but he was only 18 when we got married, and I was the only girl he ever had, so maybe he just has to get it out of his system.

I sure wish my folks would quit trying to talk me into leaving Bill. I really love him even though we fight a lot. I feel like I'm being pulled in two directions. I'm home now, wishing I was back with Bill. I'll take any advice you can give me.

MISERABLE IN KANSAS

DEAR MIS: If you're being "pulled in two directions" you're asking for it whether you realize it or not.

In responding to your calls, your folks understandably think you're asking for help. But if you really love Bill, quit whining to your parents every time you have a fight and get some professional counseling.

REV. DANNY DODDS

Will Christ return and marry?

By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — As the Rev. Sun Myung Moon tells it, God intended for Jesus to marry and with His bride to become the "true parents" of a sinless humanity, but since He was crucified and prevented from doing so, it's still to be done.

"That is why He is coming again as the third Adam," says the elaborately promoted Korean evangelist. "He will take a bride and ... true ancestry of God will be established and heaven on earth can then be literally achieved."

This is the asserted "new truth" that the Rev. Mr. Moon proclaims in the prime meeting halls of the nation, accompanied by a fervent entourage of young followers, putting up posters and roving the streets to stir up attendance.

To them, he is the forerunner of the new advent he describes, or, as some maintain, its messianic fulfillment. In contrast to classic Christianity, he offers what he terms a "new message."

"The realization of all this is at hand," the Rev. Mr. Moon says, adding that a "perfected Adam" united with a "perfect Eve" is to restore a righteous human lineage. "He is destined to come to earth as the son of man in the flesh."

Also, He is to come from Korea, called the "third Israel," according to the Rev. Mr. Moon's 600-page guiding with the Sunday service at 10:30 a.m. Evangelist for the meeting will be the Rev. Danny Dodds, minister of the Greenfield Church of Christ. Mr. Dodds is a graduate of Kentucky Christian College, Grayson, Kentucky holding the A.B. and Bachelor of Theology Degrees.

A native of Washington C.H., he previously ministered at the Sugar Tree Ridge Church of Christ, near Hillsboro, and is married to the former Delite Foy, who is also a graduate of Washington High School. They have two daughters, Tamara and Deanne.

Music will be under the direction of the Rev. Joe Lorimer, minister of the Sabina Church of Christ. There will be gospel music specials each evening by area groups and individuals.

There will be a fellowship with refreshments served after the Friday evening service, and activities on Sunday, the 29th, will include Bible School at 9:30 a.m.

text for his movement, "Divine Principles."

"Blessed are those who see Him and accept Him," he says, and hints repeatedly the time is now. "The greatest opportunity in any man's lifetime is now knocking at our door."

An appearance of the Rev. Mr. Moon at Madison Square Garden here Wednesday night was part of a 40-city U.S. tour this year, following other wideranging lectures in 1973 and 1972, heralded by full-page newspaper ads.

His movement, called the Unification Church, now claims 20,000 members in the United States and 2 million in 40 countries, mostly in Japan and Korea.

The group owns a $800,000 training center in Tarrytown, N.Y., and lists 120 other centers across the country. The Rev. Mr. Moon, 54, his young second wife and children have a 35-room mansion near Tarrytown, N.Y.

Much of the movement's generous financing reportedly comes from organization-related business assets, including a tea company, pharmaceutical firm, retreat ranches and commercial cleaning services.

Full-time workers reside frugally in communes under Spartan disciplines, but the Rev. Mr. Moon moves in select environs, including a banquet in the Waldorf-Astoria's Grand Ballroom the night before his address here this week.

The Fall of Babylon

And Babylon, the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chaldees' excellency, shall be as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah. —Isaiah 13: 19

From time immemorial the name of Babylon has symbolized the worlds of corrupt power, luxury and vice. It was a city of great beauty, with its magnificent hanging gardens, palatial buildings and golden temples erected to pagan idols. And here the captives from Judah were enslaved for fifty years. Several of the Hebraic prophets had foretold the end of Babylon which some even said had been built by Satan himself. Nebuchadnezzar was king when the Judeans were first captured but, at his death, twenty years later, Belshazzar, his son, ruled and it was after his death, as foretold by Daniel, reading the "handwriting on the wall," that Cyrus, the Mede, captured the city by diverting the waters of the great river Euphrates into its midst and flooding it.

Born in Pickaway County Sept. 20, 1878, she has two daughters, Mrs. David Cole and Mrs. William Hoskins, two grandsons and five great-grandsons. She has resided at the nursing home since 1971.

Club has potluck

Mrs. Martha Fichthorn was hostess at a carry-in luncheon in her home Wednesday when members of the Bloomingburg Wednesday Club met. Mrs. Nora Oswald conducted the brief business meeting and social hour followed.

In October new officers will be elected, when the group meets with Mrs. Lawrence Garinger.

Present were Mrs. Elton Elliott, Mrs. Garinger, Mrs. Mary Haines, Mrs. W. P. Noble, Mrs. Oswald, Mrs. Viola Thornton, Mrs. Martha Pfeifer, Mrs. Fichthorn and Mrs. Eli Craig, a guest.

Circle 3 honors three

Circle 3 of Grace United Methodist Church held its September meeting in the home of Mrs. C.L. Lewellen. It was a birthday party for three honored guests, Miss Mazie Rowe, who celebrated her 99th birthday, Mrs. Roy Porter, whose birthday was earlier in the month, and Mrs. Charlotte Timmons whose birthday will be on Sunday.

Corsages, cakes and a present from Mrs. Edmond Woodmansee, president of the Women's Society, were presented to all three.

Miss Jane Daugherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Daugherty of 4922 St. Rt. 753, became the bride of Sp. 4 Jeffrey L. Ogle, son of Mrs. Lois Pepkie of Lincoln Park, Mich. and Donald Ogle Jr. of Southfield, Mich. The Rev. Earl Russell performed the double-ring ceremony in the Good Hope United Methodist Church.

The altar was enhanced with arrangements of blue carnations, yellow daisies and gladioli.

The bride wore a white formal wedding gown with scoop neckline, empire waist and long sleeves. Lace medallions were on the front of the skirt of the gown with beaded pearls in the centers, and lace trimmed the neckline and the sleeves. Her shoulder length veil was caught to a crown of pearls and embroidery. Her only jewelry were pearl earrings and necklace. She carried a nosegay of white daisies with yellow sweetheart roses and baby's breath, and a handkerchief which was her grandmother's. Carolyn McClain was maid of honor.

Rev. Charles Richmond performed the double ring ceremony in South Side Church of Christ. A beautiful basket arrangement of pink gladioli, mums and greenery tied with huge pink bow, and two seven branch candelabrum with greenery graced the pulpit.

Half-hour preceding the ceremony Mrs. Frank E. Creamer, organist, played wedding selections. Her selections were: "More," by R. Ortolani; "Climb Every Mountain," by Rodgers and Hammerstein; "One Hand, One Heart," by Leonard Bernstein; "Oh Promise Me," by Reginald DeKovin; "Because," by Guy d'Hardelot; "It Seems I've Always Loved You," by Carmichael; "With This Ring," by Sacco; "Oh Perfect Love," by H.T. Burleigh; and "Wedding Prayer," by Dunlap.

As the hands of the clock approached 2:30 and to the music of "The Bridal Chorus," by Mendelssohn, the bride was escorted down the aisle by her father, who gave her in marriage.

The bride was dressed in a pastel blue formal with flowered bodice of blue, pink and white. Her shoulder length veil of sheer illusion was gathered to a huge flower rosette on her head that completed her costume. She carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies, pink sweetheart roses, babies breath and greenery with long ribbon streamers.

Miss Karen Sue Wilson, sister of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a pastel double knit pink formal and carried a nosegay of pink white and blue daisies.

Randall East served his brother as best man. John Stanley Baughn, uncle of the bride, was the usher. Following the wedding, Mrs. Creamer played "The Wedding March," by Mendelssohn and "Marche," by Gounod, as the wedding party marched out to the receiving line, where they received congratulations and best wishes from friends and relatives.

She wore a light blue street length dress and a necklace, a gift from the bride. She carried a nosegay of yellow and blue daisies with yellow and blue streamers.

Steven Summers performed the duties as best man.

Mrs. Daugherty chose for her daughter's wedding a rose and white double knit dress. The bridegroom's mother wore a long sleeved pink floral street-length dress. Both wore white daisy corsages.

Hostesses for the reception held in the social room of the church following the wedding were the Misses Janet McClain, Juanita McClain and Pam Watson.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Ogle, both graduates of Miami Trace High School, have returned from their wedding trip which took them to parts of Kentucky and Michigan. Mrs. Ogle will join her husband soon, who is now stationed with the U.S. Army, serving in Germany.

Mrs. Wilson, mother of the bride, chose a light blue street dress with white trim and combined with white accessories. Mrs. East, mother of the groom, wore lime green double knit, also with white accessories. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages, as did the grandmothers of the couple.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall. The table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. The base of the cake was surrounded with daisies and greenery. The appointments were of crystal and silver, and pink tapers burned throughout the serving. Mrs. Robert Wilson, aunt of the bride, and Cynthia and Rebecca Wilson, cousins of the bride, were hostesses. They wore carnation corsages.

Mrs. Howard Baughn, aunt of the bride, presided at the guest book.

The new Mrs. East is a graduate of Washington High School. Her husband, a student, is employed at Fayette Memorial Hospital.

OAS debates continued Cuban policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The permanent council of the Organization of American States (OAS) is continuing debate on the Cuba embargo after a three-hour session on Thursday produced strong sentiment for overturning the policy.

The permanent council will vote today or Saturday on a proposal to call a November meeting of OAS foreign ministers in Ecuador to take final action on the issue.

The representatives who addressed the council on Thursday found a broad range of reasons for ending the 10-year-old ban on trade and diplomatic relations with Cuba.

Argentine Foreign Minister Alberto Vignes, whose government is one of seven in the OAS which has violated the embargo, said the sanctions are a source of hemispheric friction. Costa Rican Foreign Minister Gonzalo Facio said the embargo is an anachronism in the era of East-West detente.

Mexican Ambassador Rafael de la Colina said the sanctions violate international legal concepts. Peruvian Ambassador Luis Alvarado said the question of relations with Cuba should be determined not by the 22-member OAS but by each nation on its own.

The sentiment for a new Cuba policy was not unanimous. The representatives of both Chile and Uruguay accused Cuba of continuing intervention in the internal affairs of Latin American nations.

The U.S. delegation, which has traditionally supported the sanctions, sat silently during the day's proceedings.

Indians planning police confrontation

BONNERS FERRY, Idaho (AP) — Northern Idaho's 67-member Kootenai Indian tribe braced for a confrontation today with state and local law enforcement agencies.

Kootenai tribal members planned to erect roadblocks on the region's four major roadways in an effort to secure at least part of 1.6 million acres in Idaho and Montana which they lost in 1855.

State and local authorities said they would arrest anyone manning a roadblock.

On Thursday evening, a 33-car convoy of marked Idaho State Police vehicles moved into Bonners Ferry.

Tribal spokesman Douglas Wheaton pledged that no Indian would provoke violence. He said no one manning roadblocks would be armed. He added, however, that if fired upon, the Kootenais would secure weapons.

The Kootenai said their plan was designed to force immediate negotiation of their first treaty with the federal government. The plan called for roadblocks to collect 10-cent tolls from cars traveling on highways crossing the Canadian border and connecting Montana and Idaho.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT

AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC is releasing the last of its new TV series this weekend — "Nakia" on Saturday night, Sonny Bono's Cher-less "Sonny Comedy Revue" on Sunday. It was not wise to set either loose.

"Nakia," about a New Mexico deputy sheriff of Navajo heritage, is a wooden Indian story. And while I love variety shows, the only variety in the Bono opener comes during the commercial breaks.

One needn't expect much from from a cop show, but I was sort of keeping my fingers crossed that Bono's debut as a solo performer would somehow enliven the new television season. No such luck.

His new effort may cast a pall if it continues at its nonpace.

Sonny, whose top-rated CBS variety program folded last spring when he broke up with Cher, his wife and showbiz partner, appears just as glad to be back on TV as the studio audience cheering his re-entry.

He makes a few references to the absence of Cher, such as, "This is the first time I've been on the stage alone in 11 years" and, "Now I have to do my own show, wash my own socks, do my own cooking and even my own sleeping."

He also expresses gratitude he won't have to "worry about Italian jokes any more," thus touching off a mock debate between two ladies in the audience that ends with, "Right on, pizza face!"

Cielos bueno! But I digress. Howard Cosell and Sally Struthers whisk on and off in a series of skits that appear devised by the befuddled. The Jackson Five sing one song, then withdraw.

The show, written by no less than eight writers, is a one-hour exercise in flopping about aimlessly while the band plays on. If the next show isn't any better, the band may refuse to play at all.

Coal production shows decline

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Coal production dropped sharply in the first week of September, reflecting the Labor Day holiday and a mine shutdown in central West Virginia connected with a school textbook protest.

Production of bituminous coal and lignite in the week ended Sept. 7 was estimated by the U.S. Bureau of Mines at 11,100,000 tons, down 12.6 per cent, or 1,605,000 tons, from the preceding week. Production in the same week of 1973 was 10,145,000 tons.

Ford speeds political pace

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is stepping up his personal political pace, as aides schedule up to 25 presidential speeches across the country in the two weeks before the Nov. 5 congressional elections.

Ford made his first appearance at a fund-raising banquet of the current political season on Thursday night, driving to suburban Alexandria, Va., to plug for the re-election of Republican Rep. Stanford E. Parris.

The appearance before a cheering crowd at the suburban country club came as his political planners confirmed an expansion of Ford's campaign travels.

In addition to his already-announced October appearances in such states as Kentucky, Indiana, Vermont, Pennsylvania and Michigan, officials said the late-October trips will carry Ford from the Carolinas to California in behalf of individual candidates or slates of GOP nominees.

The schedule being developed for the last two weeks of October tentatively includes some days when the President will make from three to five stops in as many states.

Ford goes to Detroit on Monday to address a world energy conference, and follows up the next week with non-campaign appearances Oct. 2 in Provo, Utah, and San Francisco.

His schedule takes on a more political flavor in mid-October with GOP fund-raising appearances in several states.

Gold mining returns to hills of Idaho

By JOHN KUGLIN
Associated Press Writer

MURRAY, Idaho (AP) — The sign near the Four Square Mine, dormant since 1934, would hardly encourage an amateur prospector.

"Use bridges at your own risk — survivors will be prosecuted."

But Bob Kress wasn't at all unfriendly as he sat in his front yard, panning for gold with the aid of a garden hose.

"People come all the time wondering what gold looks like," Kress said. "But I can't see how you can miss it. Nothing else looks like gold."

The Four Square gold-tungsten mine is two miles southwest of Murray, a historic mining town that was home for 10,000 in its heyday in the 1890s.

Spurred by higher gold prices and the discover of a half-pound nugget last year, three gold mines are being developed in the center of this revived ghost town of 87 persons and several dozen weathered buildings.

Murray is nestled in a steep, wooded canyon along the banks of Pritchard Creek and is 20 twisting miles of road from the Shoshone County seat of Wallace.

A morning's panning for Kress had produced four small flakes of gold, and the mine watchman calculated he'd need 100 pieces — a level teaspoon full — to make an ounce.

"You can be in gold-bearing ground and work all your life and never get anything. Or you could become a millionaire overnight," Kress said.

"I think this is good gravel. I dug it from around the roots of a cedar tree that must be a couple of hundred years old."

A skeptical companion said: "You don't get rich from panning. Why, if I found a nugget the size of a pea I'd probably get drunk to celebrate."

Many Murray residents are optimistic that gold, which now sells for about $150 an ounce, may double in price.

There are stories of hidden riches in the timbered hills dotted with colorfully named mines like the Wakeup Jim, Dew Drop, Treasure Box, Golden Chest and Terrible Edith.

Kress pointed to the heavily timbered hillside behind the Four Square mine and mill, which has been dormant since 1934.

But on this day, in Murray, a dozen tourists were excitedly panning for colors in the back of Chris Christopherson's bar — one of three in the town.

No one was having much luck. Some of the tourists had just bought gold pans in Wallace.

"It must be the rising price of gold, but we are selling the pans as fast as we get them," said Donna Mullen, a clerk in the Wallace Supply Co. hardware store.

Christopherson triggered a continuing community-wide epidemic of gold fever last year when he found what was then reported to be a half-pound nugget from a shaft sunk in his bedroom behind the bar. So he named it the Bedroom Gold Mine.

The nugget, displayed in the Wallace Elks Club, probably contains about six ounces of pure gold and slightly more than two ounces of quartz, an assayer has said. But the discovery of the nugget was the first significant gold find in Murray since the 1920s when, legend has it, 350 pounds of gold were recovered by a dredge in one sweep near Christopherson's bar.

"We let people pan on the muck pile without charge," Mrs. Christopherson said. "It gives the kids something to do when their parents are drinking beer."

A tourist ran into the bar displaying an almost microscopic flake of gold in his pan. There were a few oohs and aahs as the flake was placed on a matchbook cover. "This is awfully fine gold," snorted a miner nicknamed Caribou.

There was a frantic search for the flake after Mrs. Christopherson accidentally knocked the matchbook over while cleaning the bar.

"This is getting to be a busy place up here," said Christopherson, who also operates the town's only gasoline pump.

Though he is reluctant to say how much gold the Bedroom Mine has produced, Christopherson said, "There should be a whole bunch more nuggets down there."

"I'd rather have this gold backing our money than some of that paper the government is issuing."

Harsha opposes Asian Development Bank Fund

Claiming the only "ADB" he would ever support would be an American Development Bank, Ohio Congressman William H. Harsha has voted against the multi-million dollar authorization for the Asian Development Bank Fund.

"We are in such an economic state," Harsha said, "we cannot afford giving out a million dollars here or a billion dollars there. I take particular exception to the fact that this is an expansion of our spending commitment overseas when we are trying to cut every excess dime possible out of our own domestic programs."

The Asian Development Bank proposal would increase U.S. share purchases by some $361.9 million over three years and authorize another $50 million in funds for the ADB's soft-loan window.

"I don't think there is a borrower in this country who could tell you what a 'soft' loan is," the Ohio lawmaker pointed out. "Yet, while interested rates in the U.S. exceed 10 per cent, the ADB wants to use our money for easy loans to member countries at an incredible three per cent. The hard ones, mind you, go for a mere 7½ per cent. It is simply absurd to spend money on credit in other countries when our own taxpayers can't get it just to put a roof over their heads."

Harsha also questioned the expenditure for the ADB merely because the funds are spent on electric power projects, industry and transportation. "We had to cut our own mass transportation authorization in half due to inflation and we have energy costs and shortages of our own that won't quit, yet some people think we have all the money in the world to give away."

"I refuse to vote for what amounts to investing American money in an overseas stock with such obviously risky dividends — more inflation at home," he concluded.

Waste in police department seen

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Citizens Alliance for a Safer Community protested Thursday to Cleveland Safety Director James Carney that there is waste of time and manpower in the Cleveland police operation.

Its spokesman, Karl Johnson, cited a recent anticrime drive in downtown Cleveland as an example of waste and misdirection and added, "Drunks and prostitutes don't terrorize anybody."

Johnson proposed that civilians be hired as ambulance drivers and to operate the police radio room so policemen would be freed for street work. Mayor Ralph Perk said he agrees with the concept, adding that he has sought federal funds to train paramedics for ambulance operation.

About 2.3 million barrels of crude oil move daily on Canadian pipelines.

Chillicothe inmate being sought

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — Willis Jones, 47, an honor inmate at Chillicothe Correctional Institution, was discovered missing Thursday morning from his work assignment at the institution's dairy barn, said a spokesman for the Ohio Department of Correction and Rehabilitation.

Jones, who is serving a sentence of 13-70 years for armed robbery, assault with a dangerous weapon, intentional shooting and carrying a concealed weapon, was presumed to be heading for Columbus, the spokesman said.

The spokesman said county and state police have been alerted.

Police officers solve 156 offenses to date

Washington C.H. Police Chief Rodman Scott announced his department has cleared almost twice as many offenses known to the police department as compared with the number cleared last year at this time.

The total this year of cleared offenses involving such things as burglary, assault, larceny, auto theft and forgery, stands at 156, while last year's figure at this time was 99. It should be noted the 156 figure comes from an offense total of 488 so far in 1974, which leaves 332 unsolved offense cases dealing with the aforementioned categories. In 1973, there were 464 total offenses thus far in the year.

City police during August made 63 criminal arrests, 51 traffic arrests and investigated 845 incidents, Chief Scott reported.

Of the 845 incidents the most common were accidents, 82; aided persons, 71; disturbances, 71; larceny and thefts, 71, and suspicious persons and cars, 61.

During the month the department arrested 12 persons for assault, nine for breaking and entering, six for grand larceny, six for petty larceny and six for disorderly conduct.

The 63 criminal arrests for August, 1974 is a small increase from the 60 arrests for the same period in 1973.

Reckless operation topped the list of traffic offenses during the month, with eight arrested offenders. Failure to yield right of way resulted in 7 arrests, driving while intoxicated, six no operator's license, six and failure to maintain an assured clear distance ahead, four.

The 51 arrests for traffic violations during August brings the total for 1974 to 591. In 1973, 49 motorists were arrested during August and the total stood at 562.

Property damage resulting in auto mishaps during the month was estimated by Chief Scott at $20,960, bringing the total so far in the year to $136,149. Damage for August 1973 was $10,425.

Value of property reported stolen during the month totaled $4,379.94. Value of property recovered was $1,517.64.

Vandalism was responsible for a reported $538 damage in August.

Gasoline monitor system scheduled

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati, which was unable to account for 600,000 gallons of gasoline out of city pumps in 1973, has awarded a contract for $200,466 to monitor future usage.

City Manager E. Robert Turner awarded the contracts Thursday. The shortages, blamed by Turner on poor bookkeeping, turned up in a survey ordered last winter by Cincinnati Council during the gasoline shortage.

Turner said the new system will require use of employee identity cards inserted into pumps. The identity and gallonage will be automatically recorded on a city computer, he said.

Truck slowdown brings arrests

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— The state highway patrol said nine truckers were arrested Thursday night in connection with massive traffic slowdowns on the Ohio Turnpike.

The patrol said the truckers were continuing a protest started earlier in the evening after two drivers were arrested near Fremont.

Patrolmen said the nine were in a group of about 60 trucks clocked by patrolmen traveling about 10 miles per hour in the westbound lanes.

Earlier, the patrol reported that slow-moving columns of trucks clogged the Turnpike for four hours.

Conley has approximately 12 years of experience in the paint and wallcovering business.

He said the store will temporarily keep the Anderson Paint and Wall Covering name.

Government steps up farm loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmers are beseiging the government for relief and are being told by the Ford administration that at least some helpful steps soon will be taken.

Agriculture Department officials said Thursday that processing of emergency livestock loans will be stepped up and that a hearing will be held in the near future on requests for higher government guarantees for milk.

Producers of cattle, poultry and dairy products are particularly hard-pressed because of soaring production costs, including higher prices for feed because of the drought-reduced harvest this year.

But the main problem still is the country's inflation rate, farmers were told. An estimated 250 or more visited Congress and administration offices this week to seek help.

A delegation of more than 100 producers, led by Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., for example, lobbied Thursday on Capitol Hill. Later, through a delegation of eight, the group told Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz they would go broke if the situation does not improve quickly.

An aide said Butz, who earlier in the day saw a delegation of California farmers, did not promise much relief.

But one possibility, announced earlier this week, included a hearing announced by Butz to consider an increase in minimum milk prices under federal marketing orders. Officials said a further announcement on the milk hearing may be made today.

But the problem for cattle and other livestock producers may be much more complicated. Last winter cattle feed lot operators endured losses exceeding $100 per animal. As a result, Congress approved a $2 billion emergency loan program so that individual producers can get federally guaranteed loans of up to $250,000 to help recover.

But farmers said the program is lagging and that USDA has not moved forcefully to make it available. It is handled through state and county offices of the Farmers home Administration and provides that up to 80 per cent of what a farmer can borrow from a banker or other private source will be guaranteed by the agency.

Joseph R. Hanson, deputy administrator of Farmers Home, said the loans were off to a slow start, but he said the delay was mainly due to red tape of the new procedure.

Hanson said only 37 loans totaling less than $5.9 million had been committed as of Sept. 13. The law was signed by President Nixon in mid-July.

However, Hanson said the loans are being processed by field offices and that "we don't know how much is in the pipeline" there. He said procedures have been worked out and that loan approvals are expected to increase soon.

VICTORY CELEBRATION — Wounded Knee trial co-defendants Russell Means, left, and Dennis Banks, right, join in singing the AIM victory song at a party in their honor in St. Paul. Urge Ohio lottery changes

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Lottery officials in Ohio and other states are being told by the U.S. Justice Department that they should pattern their operations after the New York system to avoid running afoul of federal laws.

Ohio officials have said repeatedly they feel their operation violates no federal laws.

Lottery officials could not be reached for comment on the report of the Thursday meeting in Washington between Justice Department lawyers and representatives of the Association of State Lotteries.

Federal officials say states which violate federal laws prohibiting the mailing and interstate distribution of lottery materials face a possible law suit.

Ohio Lottery Director John E. Kirkland banned use of the mails completely last week until the Lottery Commission could consider the situation. The commission ordered a return to limited use of the mails this week.

Ohio's latest big lottery winner is 19-year-old Claude R. Holbrooks of Painesville, who came to Ohio recently from South Carolina and walked off with the $300,000 prize in Thursday's Buckeye 300 drawing at Dayton.

Holbrooks, a warehouse delivery worker who has a wife and infant son, said he "never had too much before, but I am going to have something now."

He gets $15,000 a year for 20 years and says he is "going to spend the money wisely."

He wasn't saying what he would spend it on.

Unity committee to support tax

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Mayor Ralph Perk announced formation of a "unity committee" Thursday to campaign for approval of the proposed city income tax increase.

He also told newsmen he will veto any gun control legislation which includes a registration requirement.

Voters are to decide in November whether to increase the current one per cent tax to 1.5 per cent, the funds to help finance city operations as well as its bus system.

The committee included Perk, City Council President George Forbes, Law Director Herbert Whiting, Teamsters

chief Jackie Presser and other Cleveland leaders.

On gun control, Perk said he couldn't agree with using city funds in a program like that in Baltimore, where public money is used in purchasing guns from citizens. But Perk said it would be a viable plan if private funds were used.

Inflation meets minus solutions

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The government sponsored meetings in inflation during the past two weeks have served to publicize the problem, but so far they haven't produced any common agreement on a solution.

Less government spending and easier money seem to be among the more popular suggestions for lowering the inflation rate, but nobody claims that these moves alone will bring equilibrium to a troubled economy.

In fact, the multiplicity of suggestions, the disagreements, the appeals to self-interest, seem to suggest that the American public is acquiring an education in how complex, pervasive and indelible the problem is.

It is learning also that no one person or group of persons has the answers. The naively optimistic hope that inflation might go away if the proper levers were pulled must now have vanished completely.

No heroes have emerged. No stunning new ideas have revealed themselves. The critics, now that they are having their say, can come up with nothing more than the conventional suggestions.

What has been produced is such an overwhelming mass of opinion that it might make even more difficult the anti-inflation action that must follow, or at least encumber the decisions sought at a National Conference on Inflation Sept. 27 and 28.

Meanwhile, there are indications that the airing of conflicting views and the realization of how difficult is the economic situation might be having a negative impact on public attitudes, and even firing their fears.

Albert Sindlinger, the Swarthmore, Pa., pollster who follows consumer attitudes by telephone seven days a week, claims the preliminary conferences, of which there are five remaining before the summit, are hurting the country.

"They are producing an anti-business, antilabor, antigovernment attitude," he said. "They are proving how selfish everyone is."

Sindlinger says his index of consumer confidence took one of its biggest dives ever in the first two weeks of September, a drop that he says is now being reflected in the stock market.

He maintains that in the past three weeks about three million shareholders have left the market, "individuals, small people, old ladies" who finally gave up after waiting patiently for a recovery.

The drop to a 12-year low in the Dow Jones Industrial Average, 627.19 points on Friday, Sept. 13, scared a lot of people both in and out of the stock market and convinced them the economy was in terrible shape.

Armbro Omaha wins Jug

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — "I wonder when the bubble will break," said a beaming Billy Haughton.

Harness racing's driving superstar was reflecting on his incredible 1974 season, soaring even higher Thursday with a Little Brown Jug victory behind Armbro Omaha.

Haughton seemed a bit surprised over Armbro Omaha's two come-from-behind heat decisions over Boyden Hanover in the middle jewel of pacing's Triple Crown at the Delaware County Fairgrounds.

"Boyden Hanover," Haughton said, "is a better colt on a halfmile track because he has such quick speed. He can get away from you on the turns here."

Then Haughton added, "My colt is dead game."

Armbro Omaha's winning mile times were 1:57 in the second division, 1 1/2 lengths ahead of Boyden Hanover, and 1:58 4-5 in the raceoff, a neck in front.

Foiled was a Boyden Hanover drive toward the Triple Crown. However, George Sholty, his driver, took the defeat of the Cane Futurity winner philosophically.

"I'm not disappointed," Sholty said. "Billy had his colt on top when he reached the wire. That's what counts."

Bret's Star, the first division winner in 1958, finished fourth in the raceoff behind Armbro Omaha, Boyden Hanover and longshot Pickwick Baron.

Haughton, with his unprecedented fifth Jug driving triumph, swept 1974's two major championships. Earlier he had won his first Hambletonian trot with Christopher T.

He has won three $100,000 races and his 19-year-old son, Peter, two more $100,000 events this year.

The Haughton Stable career earnings passed $20 million, once considered unattainable. Of that, $2.1 million has come in 1974.

"What a wonderful year," Haughton said.

The 50-year-old driving star followed the same strategy twice with Armbro Omaha, owned by Canadian contractor Elgin Armstrong.

He laid off the pace with the Airliner colt for the first half, made his move at the threequarter pole and overhauled Boyden Hanover in the stretch both times.

Even at that, Haughton was a bit puzzled he won the raceoff.

"I still thought Bret's Star (the 6-5 betting favorite) would come by both of us in the stretch. I don't know what happened to him," Haughton said.

Good fishing found with proper gear

By ERIC SHARP
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI (AP) — Fishermen with fond boyhood memories of catching creek chub with a willow pole and a penny hook have forgotten an important point in these days of high-priced tackle:

Probably half the reason that tow-haired kid had so much fun was his gear was matched to his quarry.

Most fishermen describe themselves as sportsmen, but a guy who hunts three-pound mackerel with heavy trolling tackle would think a good football game would match the Miami Dolphins and St. Mary's Convert.

The purpose of sports fishing is more than catching fish. The idea is to have a good time while you're doing it.

WFL teams study moves from home

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

The Houston Texans and Detroit Wheels, two of the financially troubled franchises in the World Football League, both hope to move to greener pastures in the immediate future.

But how immediate is not known, and how much greener remains to be seen.

The Texans were all set to move to Shreveport for next Wednesday's game against Memphis, but State District Court Judge Arthur Leshner issued a temporary restraining order in Houston Thursday compelling the team to play next week's game in the Astrodome.

Meanwhile, there were indications the Wheels might be shifted to Charlotte today.

Upton Bell, a former executive with the New England Patriots of the National Football League, has shown an interest in purchasing the Detroit club and moving it to Charlotte, and had told the local Park and Recreation Commission he would reveal his plans by today.

If Bell doesn't move the Wheels to Charlotte, the WFL might, according to a report in the Charlotte News.

That report quoted Tim Grandi, assistant to WFL Commissioner Gary Davidson, as saying, "We are hoping for a favorable answer from Bell. There are indications that he is very close to taking the team to Charlotte. But the possibility does exist that the league would make the move if he does not ... the city is considered a very favorable location."

home empty-handed, complaining that they spent the day taking a lot of useless little panfish off the hook.

What's wrong with catching panfish? They're not much on heavy bait casting tackle, but why not pack a light rod along for days when the bass aren't active but the sunfish are?

Ten years ago, I was stationed at an Air Force base near Kansas City, Mo., and we fished a farm pond that adjoined the base. One evening, I spent two fruitless hours casting for bass, but I hooked a dozen sunfish hardly bigger than the topwater plug they tackled.

In a moment of inspiration, I cut a skinny five-foot stick from some bushes, tied on a few feet on monofilament and attached an ultralight topwater popper. I was still standing there after dark, slapping at mosquitoes and catching panfish after panfish.

The next step was to buy a $3 flyrod, $2 of fly reel and a handful of popping bugs. From then on, that pond provided some of the most fun fishing I've ever known. Hooking the little blighters was tricky, and a half-pound fish would bend that flyrod double.

A lot of salt-water fishermen use trolling reels and boat rods for Spanish and king mackerel. Why not try spinning gear? You can troll with a spinning reel, and there are some good sinker rigs that will let you put the bait or lure deep and break away when the fish hits. Otherwise, you can use heavy enough tackle when necessary.

The fisherman who tries to haul bass out of weedy, snagfilled waters with six-pound line better have a good supply of plugs. And he isn't doing the bass any favor by leaving them to wander around with lures dangling from their mouths.

The lure probably would drop away after a few days, but some experts think the fish wouldn't survive that long. The lure can easily get hung up on an obstruction as the fish swims about, and predators are attracted to animals that look different from the norm.

3 long shots win places at Latonia

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Three long shots romped home in the first three places in the 6 1/2 furlong $3,500 featured eighth race at Latonia in 1:19.3-5 Thursday night.

Lawrence W., 40-1, led wire to wire to win by two lengths and paid $89.80, $33.20 and $22.40. Lot O Song, second, a 99-1 shot, paid $26 and $16.40 and Cause No Trix, third, $14.60.

Payoff Punch and Light Moment, 6-4, paid $88.60 in the daily double and the crowd of 3,802 bet $380.925.

Armbro Omaha collected $49,073 of the record purse of $132,630. He now has 11 victories in 41 career starts for a bankroll of more than $227,000. Nearly $200,000 of it has come this year.

He paid $5.60, $3.20 and $2.80, Boyden Hanover $4.20 and $3.60 and Pickwick Baron $5.80 in the raceoff.

Starred by Bret was fifth, Title Holder, the early co-favorite with Boyden Hanover, sixth, Dorado Almahurst, seventh, and Belmont Shadow, eighth.

MT frosh register 58 points

With the aid of three touchdowns in the third period, Miami Trace's freshman team raised its record to 2-0 with a resounding 58-12 victory over Mt. Logan of Chillicothe.

After Mt. Logan took a brief 6-0 lead, Panther quarterback Craig DeMent fired a 58-yard touchdown pass to Bill Hanners. The Panthers' other quarterback Shane Riley ran the ball across for the conversion.

DeMent came through with a 45-yard run for a touchdown before the first period came to an end. Tailback David Creamer added the conversion run.

Miami Trace held a 24-6 lead at the half when Creamer scored on a four-yard run. Creamer also accounted for the conversion.

The Panthers' first touchdown of the third stanza came on a 15-yard run by Creamer. Riley tossed a 46-yard touchdown pass to Hanners for the second score and Mark Smithson tallied on a five-yard run. DeMent's conversion run was the only successful conversion attempt after the three scores.

Following Mt. Logan's second touchdown, the Panthers' Dennis Combs returned the kickoff 65 yards for a touchdown. Kevin Anderson added the conversion.

Hanners' 55-yard return of an interception set up the final score of the afternoon. John Sagar took the ball in to paydirt from two yards away, but the conversion failed.

Freshman coach Sonny Walters said his defense played an excellent game. He said Scott Martin, Shawn Riley, Joe Garland and Keith Downing turned in outstanding efforts.

Dick Rhyan leads Kings Island Open

MASON, Ohio (AP) — Veteran Dick Rhyan has the lead in the Ohio Kings Island Open Golf Tournament. He also has a persistent question for which he has yet to find an answer.

"The folks at home (in Columbus, Ohio) wonder why the heck I don't make more money than I do," Rhyan said after a spectacular putting round staked him to a six-under-par 65 Thursday.

"Most of the time I wonder, too," Rhyan, 38, who first joined the tour in 1964 and has played steadily since 1969, has yet to win and has career money-winnings of some $83,000—much less than expenses.

But the short, stocky Rhyan put himself in shape to make a good check here, one-putting half his greens and holing long putts of 35, 20, 20 and 20 feet as he opened a three-stroke lead on the field—and six on the man he figures he has to beat.

That's Jack Nicklaus, the defending champion, designer of the 6,990-yard, par-71 Jack Nicklaus Golf Center and an overwhelming favorite for the $30,000 first prize.

"It just wasn't all there," said Nicklaus, the only one of the game's superstars entered in this late-season event. "I've got to get it closer to the hole."

His only birdie came on a par-five hole which he reached in two and his only bogey came on a three-putt.

Reds bounce Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The scoreboard confirmed a Cincinnati Reds' victory, but Sparky Anderson didn't like everything he saw.

"I just wanted to go over a few things with the team," the manager said when asked about the clubhouse meeting he called after Thursday night's 8-4 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

He went over them in a very loud voice for almost 10 minutes behind the closed doors.

The Reds, second by 2 1/2 games to the Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League West race and unable to gain ground all week, jumped to a 6-0 lead in the second inning when Giants' starter John D'Acquisto, 12-13, walked five batters and gave up a basesloaded double to Johnny Bench.

Then it was just a matter of holding on for the victory while the Dodgers were romping past the San Diego Padres 11-2.

"We really didn't do much damage tonight; the kid just walked everybody," said Anderson, whose team scored just six runs in losses to San Diego Tuesday and Wednesday.

"It's tough to bear down when you're playing before a small crowd (2,074), it's cold and windy and they've flashed a 4-0 Dodgers' lead on the scoreboard," admitted the Reds' Pete Rose, known as baseball's ultimate hustler.

Gary Thomasson's three-run home run off Fred Norman, 12-12, in the eighth made things a little tight but Pedro Borbon retired three straight Giants' batters in the ninth to protect the 8-4 lead.

The Reds, 8-4 against San Francisco this season, play six of their 11 remaining games against the Giants. The Dodgers are 12-0 against San Diego, with six games left in the one-sided Southern California series.

"It's frustrating. I just hope the Padres can win at least two of those games," said Bench.

The Padres have beaten the Reds six times this year, "and that's the difference in the race," Anderson said.

The Baltimore Oriole's 7-0 rout of New York Thursday night gave the Orioles a halfgame lead over the New York Yankees in the American League East.

Dave McNally pitched the Orioles to their 18th victory in the last 23 games as the Yankees, after a recent surge, lost their third straight game to the Orioles.

The Orioles' pitchers gave New York just four runs in the three-game series at Yankee Stadium. McNally gave the Yankees only three hits.

In the other American League games, the Detroit Tigers defeated the Boston Red Sox 3-1 and the Kansas City Royals defeated the Oakland A's 4-3 in 10 innings.

In the National League, the Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the St. Louis Cardinals 8-6; the Chicago Cubs turned back the Philadelphia Phillies 7-4; the Los Angeles Dodgers bombed the San Diego Padres 11-2 and the Cincinnati Reds trimmed the San Francisco Giants 8-4.

McNally, 16-10, stifled the Yankees on three singles in winning his fourth consecutive game and eighth in 10 decisions since July 31. It was the second shutout for the Orioles in the three-game sweep.

Don Baylor opened the scoring, smashing the first pitch of the fifth inning from Rudy May, 6-4, far over the fence for his ninth home run of the season. The Orioles added two runs in the eighth inning on a run-scoring single by Paul Blair and an RBI double by Bobby Grich. They scored four more runs in the ninth, with Andy Etchebarren, Mark Belanger and Tommy Davis each singling in a run and Grich knocking in another with a grounder.

Tigers 3, Red Sox 1

Vernon Ruhlke pitched two-hit ball for seven innings in his first major league start and Al Kaline closed in on 3,000 lifetime hits with a run-scoring single, lifting Detroit over Boston. The Red Sox' loss left them in third place, three games behind the Orioles.

Royals 4, A's 3

Amos Otis singled home the tie-breaking run in the 10th inning, giving Kansas City its victory over Oakland.

Four undefeated teams left in SCOL

By LARRY WATTS
Record-Herald Sports Editor

For all of the South Central Ohio League teams, except Miami Trace, this week marks the final tune-up prior to the opening of the league campaign.

Thus far, the SCOL schools have been having a very successful year against their opponents. Presently, the SCOL carries a 11-3 record against teams outside of the league. Miami Trace, Washington Court House, Wilmington and Greenfield will each be putting their perfect record on the line in this week's action.

Fullback Jeff Sagar, who leads Miami Trace in rushing and scoring, has been listed as a questionable starter for tonight's game at Jackson. Sagar who has 206 yards in 38 carries and 26 points, has a bruised kidney from the Springfield Northeastern game. After finding out, the Panther coaching staff has kept him out of practice this entire week.

Should Sagar not be ready to go, coach Fred Zechman will have to do some lineup shuffling. Sophomore Rex

Coe might receive the starting nod at fullback. However, there is also the possibility of moving senior quarterback Tom Riley to fullback and giving the starting assignment to freshman quarterback Art Schlichter.

Both the Ironmen and the Panthers are 2-0. Miami Trace's defense will be keying on Jackson's premier tailback, Randy Ridge. Ridge gained over 1,600 yards in rushing and pass receiving as a junior.

Washington's secondary should have its first big test of the season when Portsmouth visits Gardner Park, Friday night. Trojan sophomore quarterback Norm Burrows goes to the air 46 per cent of the time, as he has already thrown 42 passes this season.

Portsmouth carries a 1-0-1 season slate into the game. The Trojans have a 3-1-1 overall record against the Lions and 2-0 mark on Washington's field.

The Lions have already received 8-6 wins over Bishop Ready and Chillicothe. This marks the first home game of the season for the Lions.

Not only is Wilmington undefeated, but an opponent has yet to score on the Hurricane in their first two games. However, Franklin should present quite a problem for coach Ron Wilt and his crew, as the Wildcats are also undefeated. Franklin has eight returning starters on offense and seven returnees on defense.

Wilmington's flashy Jackie Watson leads the attack for the Hurricane. Watson has 242 yards in 27 carries and he has scored 28 points.

Greenfield, also 2-0 and unscored upon, will have its hands full when Chillicothe visits the Tigers. Although the Cavaliers are 0-2, they have only lost their games by a total of 10 points.

Tiger tailback Gary Barr has been relied upon to carry most of the burden for Greenfield's offense. Barr has carried the ball 76 times for 319 yards and 20 points.

Hillsboro is expected to have little trouble when they travel to Zane Trace in Ross County. The Indians are presently 1-1, while the Pioneers are 0-2. The Pioneers have been held scoreless in their last seven games and have only scored once in their last nine contests.

Indian quarterback Don Marsh has already put the ball in the air 33 times this season. He has completed 15 passes and three have been intercepted.

Union, 1-1 after last Saturday's 34-6 loss to Portsmouth Notre Dame, hosts former Scioto Valley Conference arch-rival Adena. The Warriors, who are also 1-1, had their 17-game winning streak put to an end last week.

Circleville, who is 1-1 this year, might have trouble when the Tigers travel to upset-minded Athens. The Bulldogs are 0-2 and have not scored this season.

The Tigers have not received the expected punch from the offense this season. They won their opener 21-8 over Grove City, but fell to Teays Valley 16-6 last week.

Irish to meet Wildcats

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Top-ranked Notre Dame goes into Saturday's game against Northwestern following an impressive 31-7 victory over Georgia Tech Sept. 9, while the unranked Wildcats dropped their opener by an embarrassing 41-7 score to Michigan State.

Nevertheless, Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian has found something to worry about as he prepares the Irish for Saturday's game before an expected capacity crowd of 55,000 at Northwestern's Dyche Stadium: quarterback Mitch Anderson, the leading passer in the Big Ten Conference last year.

"We still don't know how our green secondary will respond against a good passing team," said Parseghian, who left the head coaching job at Northwestern in 1964 to take over at Notre Dame.

Of the other Top Ten teams in The Associated Press poll, only third-ranked Oklahoma has the weekend off.

In day games, No. 2 Ohio State plays host to Oregon State No. 4 Nebraska journeys to Wisconsin, No. 6 Michigan entertains Colorado and Navy visits No. 8 Penn State. In night action, No. 5 Alabama meets Southern Mississippi at Birmingham, Ala., No. 7 Louisiana State plays host to Texas A&M, Wyoming visits No. 9 Texas and Oklahoma State opposes No. 10 Arkansas at Little Rock, Ark.

Second-ranked Ohio State is heavily favored over Oregon State in a major intersectional battle. Ohio State rolled up 486 yards in beating Minnesota 34-19 in its opener last week, while Oregon State is 0-2, having lost to Syracuse 23-15 and Georgia 48-35.

"Nobody comes easy these days, especially when you're highly rated," warned Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes. "It would make their season if they could beat us in Columbus."

No. 4 Nebraska comes off a 61-7 rout of Oregon last week which made quite an impression on Wisconsin Coach John Jardine.

"Nebraska is much better than last season," Jardine said. "With Tony Davis shifted to fullback, their attack is much more diversified than a year ago. And as for their quarterback, David Humm — I don't think there is a much better player in the country."

Fifth-ranked Alabama squeaked past Maryland 21-16 in its opener last week, and Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant is approaching the Southern Mississippi game very cautiously.

"We got whipped physically last week, and Southern has at least as big and strong a team as Maryland," Bryant observed. "We'll have to get better this week, or we certainly could get beaten."

Nine of the clubs in the Second Ten will see action Saturday, with only No. 13 Southern Cal taking the weekend off.

The schedule: Texas Christian at No. 11 Arizona State, night; No. 12 UCLA at Iowa, day; No. 14 Maryland vs. Florida at Tampa, Fla., night; No. 15 Pitt at Georgia Tech, day; Clemson at No. 15 North Carolina State, night; Kansas at No. 17 Tennessee, night; No. 18 Arizona at Indiana, day; Miami, Fla. at No. 19 Houston, day, and Illinois at No. 19 Stanford, day.

Ohio college grid contests on tap

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's home opener and the first Mid-American Conference contest of the season lead a 25-game Ohio college football schedule Saturday.

The Buckeyes, No. 2 nationally, will play before an Ohio Stadium crowd of more than 86,000 against Oregon State.

It's the first meeting ever between the intersectional opponents. Ohio State won its only 1974 assignment so far, 34-19 at Minnesota. Oregon State has suffered successive setbacks at Syracuse and Georgia.

Meanwhile, Mid-American opponents Ohio University and host Kent State play before a regional television (ABC) audience. The two are considered prime conference title favorites with Kent the preseason championship selection.

Miami tries for its 14th straight victory, going to rugged Purdue. The Redskins and Penn State share the nation's longest current major college winning streak.

Independent Dayton, which has matched Kent State's 2-0 start this fall, travels up to Bowling Green. The Falcons lost their opener last week 24-6 to East Carolina.

The state's two other majors, Cincinnati and Toledo, play at night.

Cincinnati, a 21-17 victim at Washington, faces its second straight long road trip. The Bearcats visit Rice of the Southwestern Conference.

Toledo, still winching from a 47-13 walloping at Tampa, tries its home turf against Villanova in another non-conference contest.

The Hoosier-Buckeye and President's Conferences are active for the second weekend in a row.

In the Hoosier-Buckeye, Findlay goes to Anderson and Bluffton to Manchester.

The President's pairings have Case Western Reserve at home for Allegheny and John Carroll at Bethany.

Elsewhere in the afternoon, Youngstown is at South Dakota State, Baldwin-Wallace at Edinboro, Muskingum at Slippery Rock, Mount Union at Wooster, Albion at Denison, Ohio Wesleyan at DePauw, Oberlin at Hiram, Wilmington at Rose-Hulman and Lincoln at Central State.

At night, Akron goes to Marshall, Wittenberg to Ashland, Ohio Northern to Heidelberg, Capital to Marietta, Kenyon to Otterbein and Defiance to Adrian.

Lions' frosh take 38-0 triumph

Without running an offensive play in the first quarter, Washington jumped out to a 16-0 margin over Hillsboro and easily cruised a 38-0 win.

Tailback Jeff Elliott overpowered the Indian defenders in pacing the Lions to victory. Elliott collected 203 yards in 16 carries and scored four touchdowns in totaling 28 points.

Two Elliott punt returns accounted for the Lions' two touchdowns in the first frame. He returned the first punt for a 45-yard score and the second punt was for 57 yards.

Following the first touchdown, Washington was slapped with a 15-yard penalty on the conversion. However, the Lions still managed to get the extra points as quarterback Devic Hargo fired an 18-yard pass to Terry Wilson. Elliott romped in with the extra points following the second touchdown.

In the third period, Elliott added another pair of touchdowns and a conversion. His first score of the quarter came on a 38-yard sweep and he also added the conversion. His final tally of the afternoon came on a one-yard plunge.

With 7:29 remaining in the game, Washington came up with its final score of the game on a one-yard plunge by Ray Crocker. Cargo booked up with Wilson on the conversion pass.

Freshman coach Don Gibbs had high praise for his defense. He singled out Elliott and Bob Shaw as the stalwarts of the defense.

College defense used by professional team

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

The National Football League has dipped into the collegiate ranks for almost all its players, some of its coaches and at least one team's defense.

The New England Patriots went to school on the defending Super Bowl champion Miami Dolphins last Sunday with a defense Coach Chuck Fairbanks developed on the campus.

Fairbanks, hired by the Patriots in 1973 after a successful tenure with the University of Oklahoma, installed his "stack" defense against Miami, and the Dolphins — undefeated in 1972, twice beaten in 1973 — are 0-1 in 1974.

The new defense, which employs three men on the line and four linebackers, held Miami's running backs to 71 yards and gave a new look to the offense as New England quarterback Jim Plunkett completed 14 of 24 passes for 177 yards and one touchdown.

Fairbanks hopes to give lessons in the successful operation of the "stack" to the New York Giants Sunday, when the two clubs meet in New Haven's Yale Bowl and the bell rings for the second week of the NFL season.

The rest of Sunday's schedule has Miami at Buffalo, St. Louis at Washington, Pittsburgh at Denver, Kansas City at Oakland, New Orleans at Los Angeles, Minnesota at Detroit, San Diego at Cincinnati, San Francisco at Atlanta, the New York Jets at Chicago, Houston at Cleveland, and Green Bay at Baltimore.

The Dallas Cowboys travel to Philadelphia to face the Eagles in a nationally televised game Monday night.

O.J. Simpson, who sat out the entire second half last Monday night against the Raiders because of an ankle injury, is listed as a probable starter for this Sunday's match-up with Miami. Mercury Morris, Miami's speedy outside running threat who did not play last week, will start Sunday.

St. Louis, 1-0, kept Philadelphia's potent passing attack out of the end zone last week, but the Redskins, 1-0, with Larry Brown, Larry Smith and Duane Thomas, are known to travel best on land.

Quarterback Joe Gilliam justified his status as No. 1 Pittsburgh quarterback, throwing for 257 yards and two touchdowns and leading the Steelers to a 30-0 rout of Baltimore. The Broncos, 0-1, dropped a 17-10 decision to Los Angeles but hold a 3-0 edge over Pittsburgh in previous meetings.

Kansas City, 1-0, and Oakland, 0-1, each hope to tilt this classic series its way after battling to a 14-14-2 standoff over the past decade and a half.

Los Angeles, 1-0, brings its offensive festival back home against the Saints, 0-1. John Hadl directs the Ram attack that features Lawrence McCutcheon and Jim Bertelsen by land and Harold Jackson by air. Archie Manning is New Orleans' quarterback.

Minnesota, 1-0, has tamed the Lions the past six years, beating them 12 straight times.

Cincinnati displayed an explosive offense against the Browns in last Sunday's 33-7 victory. San Diego, 0-1, rolled up 411 offensive yards despite losing to Houston 21-14.

Kent State faces OU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — For the second time in three seasons, Kent State goes into a Mid-American Conference football opener with its fate in the hands of a freshman quarterback.

In 1972, Greg Kokal engineered a 37-14 Kent State victory over Ohio University, the springboard to the school's first Mid-American football crown.

Now Kokal's sidelined with a shoulder separation. In his spot Saturday, against the visiting Bobcats on regional television (ABC), will be newcomer Mark Rohaley.

"I hope lightning strikes twice for us," said chuckling Kent State Coach Don James.

James isn't worried about using Rohaley, who took over for Kokal last week and directed the Flashes to a 20-14 verdict at Syracuse.

"Remember Kokal hadn't attended a class when he helped us against Ohio two years ago," James said.

James expects Ohio, picked for third place in the MAC, to pass in the pivotal contest starting at 1:50 p.m. EDT. "Our secondary hasn't been tested yet," he said.

That may hinge on the physical status of Ohio quarterback Rich Bevy, just recovering from a strained knee.

"He was sore last week. He's better now," Bobcats' Coach Bill Hess said. Ohio took a 42-7 thumping at North Carolina and Hess said, "We made a 1,000 mistakes. At least we have a chance to correct them before a conference game."

BLUE LIONS' SUPPORT — Showing the support for the 1974 edition of the Blue Lions, a large football sign has been erected at the George H. Upp residence, 726 Warren Ave. The Lions open their home campaign with Portsmouth tonight.

Donating a Kidney

When I read about a parent or a sister or brother donating a kidney to a member of the family I am always overwhelmed by this magnanimity. Can the donor be sure that one kidney will suffice him for the rest of his life?

Mrs. J.H.N., Calif.

Dear Mrs. N.:

The sacrifice of one kidney so that another human being can be given new life is a testimonial to true love.

Transplantation of kidneys from one member of the family to another is highly successful because of the absence of the problem or rejection of transplants. It is hoped that, before long, the problems of rejection will be solved. Then donor kidneys will be banked and used as life-saving gifts to people unrelated to the recipient.

The kidneys are organs of great complexity. The elaborate chemical plant within them makes manmade accomplishments shrivel into relative insignificance.

One healthy kidney can maintain normal body functions almost as well as two kidneys. Thousands of people are in perfect health after one kidney has been removed because of infection, tumors or inability to function.

Similarly, people who have donated a kidney are able to survive in good health with one normal kidney.

Family donors are chosen only after extensive studies show that there is no infection and that there is little or no risk to the donor.

In the absence of an unforeseen problem, the donor can live out a normal healthy life, made happier by the fact that another's life has been revitalized.

Mrs. J.H.N., Calif.

Dear Mrs. N.:

I went to the druggist because I had a cinder in my eye. He saw it, but refused to remove it and sent me to a doctor. I thought it was unfair to have to pay for something that could have been done by the druggist in a second.

Miss R.F., Del.

Your pharmacist deserves your thanks rather than your annoyance. What seemed so simple might have been complicated had the eye been irritated during the removal of the cinder.

Foreign bodies that seem to be simple to remove may be deeply imbedded and need expert attention with special instruments and magnified light.

Had this happened you would have been more annoyed because your pharmacist did not send you to a doctor.

Mrs. J.H.N., Calif.

Driver cited, two hit-skips checked

A Washington C.H. man was cited for failure to obey a traffic device when he became involved in an accident Friday, Washington C.H. police officers reported, along with two-hit-skip accidents which occurred on Thursday.

An accident at the intersection of Court and Main Streets at 5:35 a.m. Friday, involved cars driven by Charles L. Dewitt, 65, of 820 S. Hinde St. and Sharon L. Lynch, 25, Lynchburg, police reported.

Damage was estimated as moderate to both autos and Dewitt was charged with failure to obey a traffic device.

Two hit-skip accidents were investigated by police Thursday. The first occurred in the 100 block of W. Court Street at 2:27 p.m., when a car belonging to William Hensley, 224 Highland Ave., was struck by an unidentified driver while it was parked at a parking meter space and the second involved a car belonging to Donald May, 923 Millwood Ave., which was damaged while parked in the Buckeye Mart parking lot, Columbus Ave., at 12:30 p.m. In both cases, damage was slight.

Army deserters released as part of amnesty program

By GINNY PITT
Associated Press Writer

The first Army deserters freed from prison under President Ford's conditional clemency plan have left Ft. Leavenworth in Kansas on 30-day temporary home parole.

In Fayetteville, N.C., 28 men were sent home on Thursday from Ft. Bragg, and four draft evaders were released from Seagoville federal prison near Dallas.

At Leavenworth, officials said 95 men were scheduled for processing through

Firemen probe two blazes

A car fire and a truck fire were reported by Washington C.H. firemen today.

The car fire occurred at 3:45 p.m. Thursday, at the Wayne Roberts residence at 229 Delaware St. Firemen doused the flames with two pounds of carbon-dioxide chemicals. The flames were caused by a backfire in the carburetor. Damage was set at $50.

A fire started beneath a tanker truck owned by Ora Fitzpatrick, 832 E. Temple St., possibly because of an overheated clutch, according to Washington C.H. firemen, who responded to the blaze which was out on their arrival.

The incident occurred at the intersection of Columbus Avenue and Forest Street at 8:25 a.m. Friday and firemen reported there was no visible damage done to the truck by the fire.

MISSING — The driver of this demolished auto is still missing as far as Fayette County Sheriff's deputies can determine. The vehicle was found by a passing motorist on the Creek Road Friday morning. The car belongs to Mrs. Florence Copas, Snowhill Road, but was reported missing

Thursday night. The car apparently was traveling north on Creek Road when the driver lost control crashing through a barbed wire fence off the left side of the road. The car hit a culvert at the edge of the field and the car is believed to have flipped over at least once before coming to rest on its wheels. The Sheriff's department is investigating.

Sick, poor hurt by inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of the nation's sick and poor have told the government they have suffered more than their share from inflation and need more federal assistance.

The 180 delegates agreed at Thursday's opening sessions of a two-day, economic minisummit conference that they rigidly oppose the Ford administration's attempts to cut the federal social welfare budget.

The conference is a prelude to the national summit conference Sept. 27-28.

The Ford administration had called them here so they might point out fat in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare budget, but they urged instead that HEW spending be increased to absorb spiraling prices.

"Tight money, restrictive credit and budget cuts have produced the current recession and the high and rising rate of unemployment," said the AFL-CIO's Bert Seidman.

He told one session, "If there is a need to bring federal spending and revenue into closer balance, the answer is not to cut federal expenses, but to expand federal revenues."

Leaders of about 60 major national organizations with a stake in the $111 billion HEW budget gave examples of how inflation has already hurt Americans: slum families moving three times a year to avoid eviction and changing their names to get gas and electricity, children starving on Indian reservations, and old people eating cat food and putting off medical care.

The delegates told the government that the young, old, sick and poor are already paying a higher price for inflation and they need more money now to bring them up to where they were before the economy careened out of control.

They warned that cutting HEW spending would aggravate crime, health, unemployment, and other social problems for years and perhaps even decades to come.

To finance higher HEW spending, many groups suggested tax revision to plug loopholes benefiting millionaires, investors, the oil industry and big corporations. They said this would bring in another $20 billion to $30 billion to the federal treasury.

"Tax reform is an absolute must,"

Ron Nessen to become press chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ron Nessen, White House correspondent for NBC television news, has agreed to become President Ford's press secretary, sources report.

Announcement of Nessen's appointment was scheduled for today, formally climaxing Ford's intensive search for a successor to Jerald F. terHorst, who resigned Sept. 8 to protest the pardon of Richard M. Nixon.

Contacted Thursday night at his home, Nessen declined to confirm he had accepted the post. "I've talked to them about the job," he said. "Any announcement will have to come from the White House."

But two reliable sources said Nessen had agreed to join Ford's staff after receiving high-level assurances he would have full and ready access to the President and would be kept posted on policy decisions as they develop.

Nessen, 40, was assigned to NBC's White House staff when Ford succeeded Nixon as President on Aug. 9.

Report 60 to 200 are dead in storm-stricken Honduras

GUATEMALA (AP) — Reduced to a tropical storm, Hurricane Fifi headed into southern Mexico today leaving at least 60 dead in northern Honduras.

The Honduran National Emergency Committee said ham radio reports that could not be confirmed indicated about 200 persons were killed or missing.

All of the dead reported were in Honduras, which the hurricane lashed on Thursday with 110-mile-an-hour winds and gusts up to 140 m.p.h.

The storm slammed into Belize (formerly British Honduras) on Thursday night and at midnight was over north central Guatemala. The Miami Hurricane Center said its winds had dropped to 60 m.p.h. and "it is expected to gradually lose identity later today as it continues westward into southern Mexico."

The populated area hit hardest apparently was around the Honduran town of Ceiba, on the Caribbean coast. The national emergency committee said 41 persons were killed there.

The committee said 12 more of the confirmed dead were children who were swept away by a flash flood in the small inland town of Progreso.
